Systex Corporation 2024 Business report

In 2024, the emergence of generative AI led to explosive corporate transformations, thoroughly overturning traditional operation models. SYSTEX Corporation (SYSTEX) is also taking fast action in response to new technology trends, including promoting within the Group the research and development of related applications in corporate scenarios, integrating AI into software based on the Group's existing well-developed data analysis technology, and introducing operational strategies for applications in a wide range of industries. Through these measures, SYSTEX is aiming to increase the proportion of revenue generated from services.

2024 Operating Performance

In 2024, SYSTEX achieved an operating revenue of NT$ (same below) 11,982,990 thousand, a 13.55% increase from 2023. Our net income after taxes in 2024 was $1,957,431 thousand. The consolidated revenue in 2024 was $38,950,642 thousand, an increase of 10.70% from 2023. The consolidated net income after taxes in 2024 (excluding non-controlling equities) was $1,957,431 thousand and earnings per share reached $7.66. Revenue has reached record highs for nine consecutive years.

2024 Business Summary

■ Five new service types to optimize profitability

In 2024, our operational focus was on providing five key services: corporate cloud services, data services, cybersecurity services, software development services, and maintenance and operation services. We actively promoted corporate subscription-based solutions to optimize profitability and continually enhance service revenue. For example, in cybersecurity services, we expanded our connections with ecosystem partners and integrated resources in order to meet the diverse cybersecurity requirements of enterprises, thereby responding to the increasingly challenging information security environment. We have also integrated cloud and data technologies and provided software development services and maintenance services, in order to help build applications for smart government and smart city. In this way, we have helped create more convenient and beneficial living environments by contributing to areas like disaster prevention, social welfare, land administration, and transportation. We have also gradually increased the proportion of services income in our revenues.

■ Accelerating corporate applications of AIGC and expanding applications in a wide range of industries

Regarding the artificial intelligence generated content (AIGC) issue, we have actively developed application solutions using generative AI technology. Centered around data, driven by software, and utilizing AI algorithms, these solutions are ultimately implemented in corporate operational scenarios, progressing from “Enabling SI” to “Empowering AI,” enhancing end-to-end user experiences. Through the Group’s internal AI Task Force, we have continued to develop various types of APIs and AI application interfaces internally, and have encouraged colleagues in technical sectors to improve their use of AI. These measures help customers from all sectors in implementing AI in their operational scenarios.

■ Cultivate key talent and provide employees with a platform for growth

We have continued to create a good working environment for our employees, encouraging them to participate in exercise and endeavoring to strike a good work-life balance. We have also established a culture of learning. We invest in employee training by designing personal learning paths for employees based on our internal organization, so that they can learn about new technologies and applications. This enables employees to enhance their skills and improve their personal capabilities. We also integrate cross-domain learning in our ecosystem, in order to encourage co-learning and co-creation as well as maximize value.

The Impact of the External Competitive Environment, Regulatory Environment, and Macroeconomic Conditions

The international community still had to face a variety of geopolitical conflicts and multilateral tensions in 2024, which will continue to evolve and affect the economic situation in 2025. These include the new tariffs and border policies of the Trump administration in the United States, which will drive changes in the market deployment of companies around the world. In addition, cybersecurity issues have become more challenging to enterprises due to the development of new technologies. Information security is now a major problem that national governments and corporations must take seriously. But crises can also bring business opportunities. In terms of the technology, generative AI has seen rapid developments. The best growth opportunity for Taiwan’s IT services industry will come from using software technology to connect a wide variety of data on heterogeneous platforms, in order to provide accurate and effective AI training and contribute to customers’ global deployment strategies for new markets.

Business Plan for 2025

■ Expand investment in AI

SYSTEX will boost AI investment, infrastructure, and development, including expanding horizontal alliances to establish an “AI ecosystem” and deepening the vertical expansion of the company’s “Ai4iA” for industry applications. This will benefit the tangible realization of industry application scenarios and create business opportunities for a wide range of industries in AI application services. We will also find new ways to internally integrate our technology, talent, marketing, and international collaborative capabilities to become an AI organization that is active in the whole region. Our goals are to develop an independent and innovative AI platform, to be able to set prices for AI services, and to become the information service company that understands AI best.

■ Expand into international markets

We will promote our regional development and offer “global IT services.” We will focus on the Southeast Asian and Japanese markets in addition to serving Taiwanese companies, Mainland Chinese companies, and Hong Kong companies, so that all enterprises in the region can receive our services. At first, we will start with value-added distributor (VAD) services, seeking partnerships as a regional agent and aiming to gradually build up the scale of operations. Then we will further expand our services to include our own products, joining with the strengths of our local partners to maximize the benefits of collaboration. Currently, we have established a branch location in Vietnam, and we use our Singapore location as our Southeast Asian operational headquarters. This helps us find more local service opportunities.

■ Deepen the offering of new services

We will leverage our technological advantages in this new economy to create differentiated value-added services, thereby enhancing our ability to set prices for our services as well as increase gross profit margins. This new service-oriented positioning, in which applications are innovatively brought to reality in corporate settings, will help us price our services in a way that will maximize profitability. Furthermore, by combining new technologies with AI, SYSTEX will become an AI agent company that understands AI best. This is a great direction and opportunity for creating future growth.

■ Promote IPOs of subsidiaries

We will promote the public listing of Group subsidiaries so that high-potential businesses can contribute greater value to the Group, as well as provide employees with a stronger foundation for growth. This, in turn, will encourage the retention, recruitment, and attraction of talent. SYSTEX Fintech Corporation completed its listing on the over-the-counter market on February 12, 2025. In the future, we will continue to promote listing by subsidiaries with outstanding performance.

Future outlook

SYSTEX has positioned itself as “a Data Software company,” and is pursuing a 10 year growth plan based on this foundation. SYSTEX has set five major investment directions and business priorities for 2025: AI, go global, new type of services, JAMAL, and IPOs of subsidiaries. With the advantage of many years of experience in system integration services and cross-platform heterogeneous platform data integration, SYSTEX has independently developed many world-class and innovative products and services, and is aiming to create unique value and establish the ability to price its services accordingly. Furthermore, we will also expand our deployments in the Asian market, build connections with ecosystem partners to pursue greater business opportunities, and promote IPOs by Group subsidiaries. These measures will help us explore more opportunities for SYSTEX to find greater value in the company and in the market, and ensure that SYSTEX will maintain its leading position.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

The Board of Directors and Shareholders
Systex Corporation

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Systex Corporation and its subsidiaries (collectively referred to as the “Group”), which comprise the consolidated balance sheets as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the consolidated statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including material accounting policy information (collectively referred to as the “consolidated financial statements”).

In our opinion, based on our audits and the reports of other auditors (please refer to the Other Matter paragraph), the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), International Accounting Standards (IAS), IFRIC Interpretations (IFRIC), and SIC Interpretations (SIC) endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Republic of China.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Financial Statement Audit and Attestation Engagements of Certified Public Accountants and the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with The Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2024. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

The key audit matter identified in the Group's consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2024 is stated as follows:

Valuation of Receivables

As of December 31, 2024, notes receivable and accounts receivable amounted to $5,436,976 thousand. When assessing the impairment of receivables, the management of the Group uses the expected credit loss model based on the lifetime expected credit loss. The valuation of receivables involves significant accounting estimates and judgments by management. Therefore, we considered the valuation of receivables as a key audit matter. For the disclosures related to receivables, refer to Notes 5 and 11 to the consolidated financial statements.

Our audit procedures performed with respect to the abovementioned key audit matter included the following:

1. We obtained the reports of impairment of receivables and assessed the reasonableness of the expected credit loss model and the data used in the reports.
2. We tested the aging schedule of receivables and reviewed the calculation of expected credit loss to confirm the accuracy of the expected credit loss recognized on receivables.
3. We evaluated the recoverability of receivables by analyzing overdue accounts and verifying cash receipts in the subsequent period. For those receivables that were past due and yet received, we assessed the reasonableness of the expected credit loss based on the Group's customer payment history, customer credit control and follow up the tracking status of overdue receivables.

Other Matter

We did not audit the financial statements as of and for the year ended December 31, 2023 of Rainbow Tech Information (HK) Ltd. and Systex Information (HK) Ltd., which were all subsidiaries of the Group included in the consolidated financial statements. The aggregate assets of these subsidiaries as of December 31, 2023 amounted to $1,242,243 thousand, or 4.06%, of the consolidated assets. The aggregate net operating revenues of these subsidiaries in 2023 were $2,230,942 thousand, or 6.34%, of the consolidated net operating revenues. We also did not audit the financial statements as of and for the year ended December 31, 2023 of Genesis Technology Inc., and Collaboration Co., Ltd., which investments were accounted for using the equity method in the accompanying consolidated financial statements. The aggregate carrying amounts of which investments were accounted for using the equity method were $1,386,011 thousand, or 4.53% of the consolidated assets as of December 31, 2023. The aggregate amounts of the share in their profit and other comprehensive income in 2023 were $90,807 thousand, or 6.23% of the consolidated comprehensive income. The financial statements of the aforementioned subsidiaries and investees were audited by other auditors whose reports have been provided to us, and our opinion, insofar as it relates to the amounts included for these subsidiaries and investees, is based solely on the reports of the other auditors.

We have also audited the parent company only financial statements of Systex Corporation as of and for the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023 on which we have issued an unmodified opinion and unmodified opinion with Other Matter paragraph, respectively.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, and International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS), International Accounting Standards (IAS), IFRIC Interpretations (IFRIC), and SIC Interpretations (SIC) endorsed and issued into effect by the Financial Supervisory Commission of the Republic of China, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.
3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
6. Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision, and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2024 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partners on the audits resulting in this independent auditors' report are Shio-Ming Shue and Hui-Min Huang.

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying parent company only financial statements of Systex Corporation (the "Corporation"), which comprise the parent company only balance sheets as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the parent company only financial statements, including material accounting policy information (collectively referred to as the "parent company only financial statements").

In our opinion, based on our audits and the reports of other auditors (please refer to the Other Matter paragraph), the accompanying parent company only financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the parent company only financial position of the Corporation as of December 31, 2024 and 2023, and its parent company only financial performance and its parent company only cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Financial Statement Audit and Attestation Engagements of Certified Public Accountants and the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Parent Company Only Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Corporation in accordance with The Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the parent company only financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2024. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

The key audit matter identified in the Corporation's financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2024 is stated as follows:

Valuation of Receivables

As of December 31, 2024, notes receivable and accounts receivable amounted to $1,202,083 thousand. When assessing the impairment of receivables, the management of the Corporation uses the expected credit loss model based on the lifetime expected credit loss. The valuation of receivables involves significant accounting estimates and judgments by management. Therefore, we considered the valuation of receivables as a key audit matter. For the disclosures related to receivables, refer to Notes 5 and 9 to the financial statements.

Our audit procedures performed with respect to the abovementioned key audit matter included the following:

1. We obtained the reports of impairment of receivables and assessed the reasonableness of the expected credit loss model and the data used in the reports.
2. We tested the aging schedule of receivables and reviewed the calculation of expected credit loss to confirm the accuracy of the expected credit loss recognized on receivables.
3. We evaluated the recoverability of receivables by analyzing overdue accounts and verifying cash receipts in the subsequent period. For those receivables that were past due and yet received, we assessed the reasonableness of the expected credit loss based on the Corporation's customer payment history, customer credit control and follow up the tracking status of overdue receivables.

Other Matter

We did not audit the financial statements of Collaboration Co., Ltd., which is investee of the Corporation and is accounted for using the equity method, Genesis Technology Inc., which is investee of the Corporation and Syscore Corporation and is accounted for using the equity method, Systex Information (H.K.) Limited and Rainbow Tech Information (HK) Limited, which are investees of Kimo.com (BVI) Corporation and are accounted for using the equity method for the year ended December 31, 2023, but such financial statements were audited by other auditors. Our opinion, insofar as it relates to the amounts included for these investees, is based solely on the reports of other auditors. The aggregate amounts of aforementioned investments accounted for using the equity method was $2,521,760 thousand, representing 11.27%, of the Corporation's total assets as of December 31, 2023. The aggregate comprehensive income of these investees was $158,395 thousand, representing 11.54%, of the Corporation's comprehensive income for the year ended December 31, 2023.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Parent Company Only Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the parent company only financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of parent company only financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the parent company only financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Corporation's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Corporation or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Corporation's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Parent Company Only Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the parent company only financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these parent company only financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the parent company only financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Corporation's internal control.
3. Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
4. Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Corporation's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the parent company only financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Corporation to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the parent company only financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
6. Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of entities or business activities within the Corporation to express an opinion on the parent company only financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision, and performance of the audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the parent company only financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2024 and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

The engagement partners on the audits resulting in this independent auditors' report are Shioh-Ming Shue and Hui-Min Huang.
